NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, June 3.—A large delegation, composed mostly of participating statesmen will leave here tonight for Harrisburg, where they will join the shouters at the state Republican convention. The most general opinion of the Susquehanna county contingent is that Elkin will win the governorship, though if instead Colonel Watros should win, the satisfaction thereat would be universal among the sturdy, loyal Republicans of this county.

Mrs. E. D. Browster, of Scranton, was the guest of relatives in Montrose over Sunday. The McCausland company is booming. They are very busy just now putting in the celebrated "Flyaway," which is proving a boon to live stock in protecting the animals from the pestiferous fly. Another carload of material for the manufacture of "Flyaway" was unloaded today. We are informed that orders are coming in such numbers and for such quantities that the company finds it impossible to keep up with the demand, but they are making an heroic effort to do so. Captain McCausland left this morning for New York on business connected with the company. The McCausland company gives promise of becoming a permanent institution.

Children's Day was appropriately observed yesterday at the Presbyterian and Baptist churches. Next Sunday will be Children's Day at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Wilson, Dr. E. R. Gardner and sister, Mrs. Clara Miller leave today for Saratoga, where the doctors will attend the annual convention of the American Medical association. Dr. Wilson and wife will also take a trip up the St. Lawrence and up and down the Hudson river; the doctor spending some time in the hospitals in New York city. Dr. Gardner expects to spend only this week from home, while Dr. Wilson's trip will probably occupy about three weeks.

George H. Frazier, wife and little son, Homer, were the guests of relatives in Rush on Saturday. Mr. Frazier returned on Saturday evening, but Mrs. Frazier and son remained for a more extended visit.

The many friends here of F. H. Upton were rejoiced at his vindication by acquittal of the serious charge brought home on South Cherry street, in this place. Mrs. N. Warner (nee Florence Kerrigan) is critically ill at the home of Mr. Warner's parents, Captain and Mrs. Charles N. Warner, on Cherry street. A number of prominent business men and other of our leading citizens are considering the advisability of having an old-fashioned celebration in Montrose on the coming Fourth of July. Good idea. We haven't had any in several years, and there would be a large attendance, a good time and many dollars for the outside left in Montrose. Push it along!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lodge and daughter, Ida, of Nebraska, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Lodge's sister, Mrs. William Kelly, in the township.

Dr. J. D. Kelly and Herbert Buckley, of Susquehanna, spent Sunday at the home of the doctor's parents in the township.

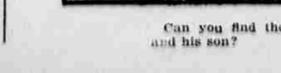

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Taylor, of Binghamton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Mack, at their home on Church street.

Mrs. Susie Youngs and Miss Amanda Turroll, of Wilkes-Barre, are visiting relatives in this place.

Miss Nellie Keenan, clerk in the register and Recorder's office, spent Sunday at the home of her parents in Susquehanna.

The many friends of County Commissioner Harrison Harrington will be glad to learn that he has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to be out and about his home in Bridgewater.

Picture Puzzle. Can you find the owner of the dog, and his son?

PITTSSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, June 8.—Another cave-in occurred at the section of Hughes street, which was in the same locality as the one which occurred a few months ago, but this is of more serious consequences. Seven houses are damaged, some of them badly. The places are on Rock street near Center street, and are occupied by the following parties: Mrs. Gertrude Fischer, Gottlieb Schmitz, William Renfer, Mrs. Louise Hoffman, Isaac Griffith and William Wertz.

It was about 4 o'clock the inhabitants of the town were aroused from their slumbers by low rumbling noises followed by two shocks. It was not an unfamiliar sound, and all realized what was taking place and quickly arose to learn the extent of the damage. Over five acres in all are affected and the cave runs from east to west. Two large fissures mark the boundaries of the cave and the surface between them has settled considerably, in some places dropping as much as six feet.

The home of Mrs. Fischer has been the most seriously damaged. The foundation walls spread out over two feet. The house luckily did not drop but was somewhat twisted, so much, in fact, that the doors were jammed tight and refused to open, the family being removed from second-story windows with the aid of ladders.

Schmitz's house pitches forward and one corner is 18 inches lower than the remainder. The plaster in several of the houses cracked and some fell. A large bed of onions on the property of William Wertz dropper intact between two fissures and the surrounding earth is several feet higher. The Spring Brook water pipe burst and some of the cellars were flooded.

Business Agent Joyce, of the Carpenters' union, today received a communication from National Secretary-Treasurer Frank Duffy, of the Carpenters' union, calling out all the mine carpenters of the district. The men were immediately notified and a majority of those who have been working will quit tomorrow. Several more recruits were added to the strikers' ranks last night and today. Three laborers who have been working at the Lawrence colliery at Dursey assisting in the firework colliery at West Pittston. Three uniformed deputies were placed on duty at the latter colliery today and cars were fitted out as sleeping quarters for men who may be imported. A wire fence is also being erected around the colliery. Another meeting of engineers was held here tonight.
